Terry Lee Pummill Appears First Pettis County Baby of 1957

Terry Lee Pummill appears to be Pettis County's winner of the First Baby Contest. Terry arrived at 11:06 a.m. Friday at Woodland Hospital, and no contradictory reports had been received by midnight Saturday by the First Baby Contest Editor. Notification of birth is to be given the editor within 48 hours after the event in order to qualify for the many gifts being presented by Sedalia merchants. Terry Lee's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Pummill, 1817 South Ohio, are keeping their fingers crossed.

This sweet, smooth and sassy new Chevy has its own built-in "dollarsaver." It's the latest and liveliest edition of the six that's famous for its saving ways!

You'd never guess from the way this new Chevy looks and acts that it's so easy going on budgets. It's long, low -and every inch a beauty, with the solid quality of Body by Fisher written all over it. And the interior would go beautifully with just about anybody's bottom-priced Chevrolet "One-Fifty." And it has a peppery, sweet-running "Blue-Flame" six under the hood to make your gas stops few and far between. This, you know, is the very newest version of America's favorite six. You'll like the "lift" and the thrift it puts in your driving!

And you'll like the special sureness of control you have at the wheel. This is a quality that just can't be measured in dollars and cents. Lots of cars that cost lots more just don't have it. Come in and see how much pleasure we're passing out these days has ruled in favor of cities purchasing off-street parking lots and paying for them by issuance of revenue bonds, the time cannot come too soon for Sedalia to have such a project materialize here.

Already city council has authorized a survey of off-street parking requirements for the downtown area which is certainly in need of not only this but also a development program anticipating the now to be done.

This extensive survey by competent traffic engineers is one of the necessary preliminaries. It will implement marketing of revenue bonds and obtaining necessary money to get the off-street parking projects under way and the paying for them by money taken in from such projects.

Sedalia's downtown business area, a focal point of automotive congestion, has been deficient in correcting the conbeen a desire to do something about it. Merchants long ago clamored for relief and set upon the off-street parking lots method of getting such accommodations for patrons. But legal technicalities arose market for such bonds. This condition favorably.

But the process of preliminary surveys, and all the mechanics involved in obtaining sites, cannot be performed quickly by prestidigitation.

As the lawyers say, "Time is of the needs of a growing community. Both are essence," and nobody appreciates that more than the downtown merchants and business and professional men, and the

Congress Message Will Rebuild Alliance

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON. - First drafts of President Eisenhower's proposed state of the union speech, scheduled January 10, have already been returned to the White House by cabinet officers with their comments.

As it stands, the speech will be devoted primarily to foreign policy. Ike will issue a strong reminder that our traditional British-French allies are our true friends. He will also mention American sympathy for people everywhere who wish to be free. He will call for a big foreign

On demostic issues, Ike will call for mild reforms in farm legislation, civil rights, the Taft-Hartley Law and Social Security. He will also speak hopefully of America's prospects for continued peace and prosperity.

Two Negro Tax Cases

It's interesting to scrutinize the treatment two prominent Negroes, Joe Louis and Congressman Adam Clayton Powell, are getting on their taxes and how they are taking it.

Joe Louis, the ex-heavyweight boxing champion, owes Uncle Sam $1,119,437 in taxes on the time money came easy, Joe didn't realize how high his bracket was, and didn't lay it away for the tax collector. He never fudged on his taxes. But he did get behind in payments, and at the rate of 6 percent on back payments this can run Lately Joe has gone into wrestling to try to pay up; in the last three months has paid $124,000. However, the Treasury recently attached a $65,000 trust fund left for his children, Joe, Jr., 9, and Jacqueline, 13. Joe has not claimed this was racial discrimination.

Meanwhile. Congressman Powell, minister of the largest Baptist Negro church and voter, as a congressman, of the tax laws the rest of the country has to obey, is supposed to know more about taxes than Joe Louis. Last summer he found himself in tax trouble, shined up to Vice President Nixon, finally switched from the Democratic party to Eisenhower. However, a federal grand jury in New York is still considering his case.

Powell claims this is racial discrimination. Friends of his in the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters have protested on his behalf.

Two of Powell's secretaries have been convicted in connection with paying salary kickbacks; one secretary has been indicted. Possible Rent Gimmick

Meanwhile, the grand jury has been digging into additional information supplied by an exmember of Powell's staff that he paid his rent while in Washington by putting his landlord on the government payroll. His landlord was Belford Lawson, Jr.

This column checked into the charge and found that Lawson had been on Congressman Powell's payroll for $77 a month from January to June 1945. These are the months that Congress was in session, and $77 a month is not far off from the amount one would pay for the rent of a room in a private home.

PHILADELPHIA BULLETIN: Say It With Spondees. He points out that our forefathers had to cope with the same problem. Boethius, who flourished some 1,400 years ago, dealt with the effect of wild music on impressionable juveniles. He mentioned one cat, for example, who wanted to burn down his girl friend's house, after listening to music in the Phrygian mode.

That Phrygian stuff was crazy, man, real gone. It came from Asia Minor, featured hot trumpets, and bore no relation to the shepherd's pipe melodies that made Greece what it was in the palmy days. According to Boethius, quoting Pythagoras, there was only one remedy for this early Rock 'n' Roll. You had to make the patient listen to the old, square, long-hair music until he snapped out of his fit. Only the even, slow beat of spondees would cure him of the effects of syncopation.

In a practical way, that would mean playing "My Country, 'Tis of Thee" or reciting "Hiawatha" to any juniors that you think may need it. If they fall asleep, so much the better, for juniors are never more attractive than when they are asleep.

The records of the House of Representatives also showed that Lawson was on Powell's payroll for $88 a month from January to March This is money, of course, which is paid by all the taxpayers to a Congressman for his staff to help his constituents. It is not supposed to be paid for rent, or food, or the personal expenses of a Congressman. When Lawson was querted about this, he admitted Congressman Powell had rented a room from him for $60 a month and admitted he had been on the payroll. He vigorously denied, however, there was any connection between the two. "I was put on the payroll." he claimed. "for advising Powell on Civil Rights."

"Why were you taken off the payroll just as Powell ceased to live in your home and then came back on the payroll next year?" Lawson

"I continued to give him free advice," Lawson explained, "then quit altogether when my advice

"Isn't the $60 you say that Powell paid for rent very close to the $77 you received as a

"That's only a coincidence," Lawson replied. "Powell kept the apartment beyond the time he had me on the payroll." Lawson added. "How long?"

Mr. Lawson couldn't quite remember. He said he thought that Powell probably had paid his rent by check, but when asked if he had tried to get hold of the checks, Lawson finally said he wasn't quite sure whether Powell had paid by check or in cash.

Note - Congressman Powell has denied that he took kickbacks from his secretaries or that he failed to pay his full taxes.

It was kept out of the papers, but a prominent Israeli official was held up an hour by immigration authorities recently at Idlewild Airport on suspicion that he was a Communist. He was mayor Aba Chashy of Haifa, one of

He roported as ordered and got an official apology. It had all been a ghastly mistake. Mayor Chashy was by no stretch of the imagination a red. He had the good manners, however, not to complain about our bad manners.

One Less Trouble Spot

The world scene offers few controls these days in the way of smoothed-over trouble spots. Therefore, grateful for small advantage, we must be cheerful that one corner of the globe, the disputed European Saar, will now be quieter. As 1957 begins, the tiny Saar, an industrial enclave on the French-German border, goes back to Germany after a dozen years in French France's interest in the area is economic. Coal, iron and steel output at substanial levels tell the story. But in the end the decision of the Saar's ultimate political allegiance was left to Saarlanders themselves. The basically German population voted to rejoin Germany.

With the problem settled at last, attention in Germany may henceforth focus more strongly than ever on the larger dilemma: the division of the country into eastern and western segments.

Harassed in Hungary and Poland, the Russian Reds will be in no mood to listen to reasonable proposals for reunification, for these would simply cancel Communist hold on East Ger-

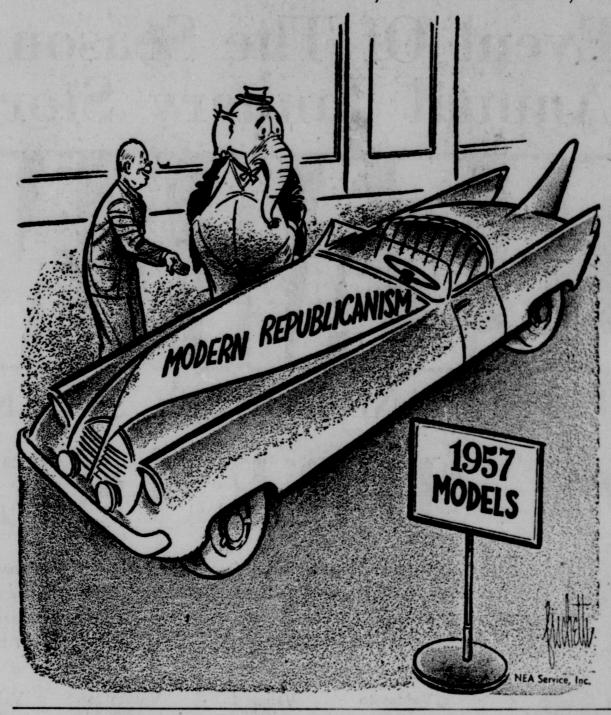

There was a time when the Reds beat the "German unity" drum pretty loudly, but now such noises only afford them embarrassment. We and our Western friends can pound the theme with abondon. For emphasizing Russian reluctance to act can show the world one more time how utterly fraudulent is the Communist claim to the championship of peace and order.

Strong Blood Ties May Hasten The Return of British - US Amity

By TOM A. CULLEN

NEA Staff Correspondent LONDON - The cooling-off of Anglo-American friendship has made a lot of Britons, not the least among them Sir Anthony Eden and Sir Winston Churchill, suddenly conscious of their strong American

These blood bonds between Britain and America are seen here as the best guarantee that the Anglo-American alliance will not only be restored to its original vigor, but may even in the future result in a closer union between the English-speaking peoples.

The fact that Sir Winston Churchill's mother Jeanette Jerome. was an American is too well known to need stressing This dark, lithe American beauty was the daughter of Leonard Jerome, owner and publisher of The New York Times during the Civil War and founder of the Coney Island Jockey Club.

Less well known is that one of Sir Anthony Eden's forebears, Sir Robert Eden was governor of Maryland at the time of the American War of Independence. He was chased out of the colony in 1776, but he later returned to die and be buried in Annapolis, Md.

To another British cabinet member who is half American the criin Anglo-American relations has presented itself as a bitter personal dilemma the occasion for soul-searching of the agonizing that I am proug of it."

Lord Hailsham then went on to warn the United States: "We will not be sermonized. We don't want to hear any moral lectures.' Quite different has been the re-

The Anglo-American friendship crisis has acted to bring out the Americanism of the Astors; so much so that two of the Astor sons, who sit in the Houses of Parliament, and a third, who is the editor of one of Britain's most influential newspapers, have been under fire in certain Tory circles, where it is more fashionable not to "like Ike" at the moment.

The Astors have been critical of Eden's handling of the Suez crisis: they also have been vocal in urging the British government to greater speed in restoring the Atlantic partnership

This has given rise to a wave of what The Spectator calls "anti-Astorism." There have been anonymous letters accusing the brothers of being "cowardly and unpatriotic" for criticizing the prime Actually, the Astors, who appear very British, are part of the warp and woof of America. Their family coat of arms features a North American Indian and a fur trapper (both armed with rifles) as a reminder that the original John Jacob Astor, who emigrated to the United States in 1783 from the village of Walldorf, Germany, made the family fortune by trading in furs.

Today, at 77, Lady Nancy Astor

Themselves just everywhere they go
That makes life so worth living;
Bored are the people who look up
To those with more than they,
Yet they would see their own full cup
To look the other way;
And sometimes cups that overflow,
So people think, do not at all,
For no one else's trials we know
If they be very great or small. For no one else's trials we know

If they be very great or small;
They may have on the outside much
Which glistens as the morning sun,
Yet, there is no inspiring touch
Of calmness when the day is done;
But there are handicapped or ill,
Or those perhaps in direct need
Who have the strongest faith and will
And through it all they will succeed;
No bored people in this group,
And no self pity do they feel
So don't look up but only stoop
To see the hearts where life is real.
Do not look up and wish for more

To Cope With Delinquency-

Federal Funds May Be Available For Missouri

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON - Missouri may get a federal grant "to help attack the growing problem of juvenile delinquency. Although the Eisenhower administration policy is against "federal hand-outs" and against centralization, the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, Marion Folsom, is convinced that "simply offering technical assistance to state agencies is not enough to modernize methods of coping with delinquency." The and communities "should have some financial encouragement," he says, adding (maybe to appease the Republicans in Congress who fought such New Deal tactics) the phrase "at least for a limited period." But the history of grants-in-aid, matched by the states, is that they never end. Mr. Folsom proposes three types peater cases. 3. Raise standards of work with delinquent-prone youths.

The program would be adminis tered by the Children's Bureau. which is in th Health, Education and Welfare Department. No estimate is made of the amount of money likely to be involved.

"For seven consecutive years," Mr. Folsom comments, "the number of delinquent youngsters appearing in juvenile courts has gone up. These cases have reached their highest peak in our history, about one-half million in With a greatly increased child population, we are in danger, as a nation, of seeing these numbers increase still further unless more effective measures are taken.'

President Eisenhower has de scribed the problem as "filled with heartbreak." To his HEW secretary, it is clearly in the national interest for the federal government to strengthen the hands of local and state governments in dealing gional or national significance, with lawlessness among youths.

Dietary Heart Treatment In Development Stage

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D. Mrs. M. asks whether there are made additional studies on the different types of high blood pressure; whether the rice diet is ben- people. eficial and what quantity of rice should be taken.

In answer to the first question, it can be said that there are several kinds of hig hblood pressure, or hypertension. In some of them the cause can be identified and perhaps corrected; in others, particularly the kind known as essential hypertension, the cause or causes are still uncertain.

Besides there being a difference in high blood pressure based on the cause, there is also a great dal of difference in the degree to which the blood pressure is raised and in the symptoms present and the outlook. In other words, there are many people with some increase in blood pressure who have few, if any, symptoms and who live for a long time without developing any.

The question of the rice diet cannot be answered simply but it can be said that the quantity of rice to take should be determined by the physician in charge on the basis of the individual patient. Furthermore, there are now many other treatments besides the rice diet for a person with high blood pressure. The selection of which method is best for a particular person must be made with care. It is true that one of the treatments of high blood pressure is by diet. It was shown about the beginning of this century that a diet which contained small amounts of salt was helpful in many cases of high blood pressure. Progress in this direction was slow for many years but re- be considered.

cently research workers have effect of diet in both animals and

One group of workers has found that the blood pressure of rats with experimentally produced hypertension could be lowered when they were given diets which wer low in on part of salt. (The chemical name for salt is sodium chloride and the portion which they took out was the sodium.) They tried this treatment also in a small group of patients and found that the blood pressure was lowered in several.

Another group of investigators. also using experimental animals found that a diet low in protein (meat, eggs, fish and the like) and low in sodium would prevent the high blood pressure which took place in these animals if they were not given this special diet.

Such studies as these may explain the good results which have been reported for some of the special diets for high blood pressure, including the rice diet. It seems likely that when there are good results from such special diets it may be because of the um which they contain. The victim of high blood pres sure cannot expect too much from diet treatments alone. Nevertheless, work on this problem is going forward constantly and probably the future will bring forth dietary treatments for hypertension even better than those which are known

But as mentioned earlier there are other treatments, including drugs and surgery, which have to Work was started on razing the old Jaynes mansion, Broadway and Ohio, which in late years had been used as Maywood and St. Mary's Hospitals. For a time it was also used as a general hospital. The commodious structure was built in 1868 and was one of the most pretentious homes in Missouri when the Col. A. D. Jaynes family occupied it many years.

A dozen lodgers who sought shelter at the city jail were served fried rabbit by generosity of members of the Modern Woodmen lodge, who killed a large number while hunting. Surplus of rabbit and other dishes were served visi-tors at police headquarters.

THERE are rumors and rumors, but it is most likely they are correct as to Charles "Van" Van Dyne changing schools. It has been reported Van Dyne plans to leave the University of Missouri for Norman, Okla., where he hopes to play under Coach Bud Wilkinson of the Oklahoma Sooners. There is no doubt Van Dyne will be much happier there should his final decision be made to switch. He wanted to go to Oklahoma from the start but was talked out of it by Missouri followers.

He went to Missouri on a scholarship in athletics and he produced on the Freshman football team. But it is a known fact he has not been happy. To be a good student, to be a good football player, a boy must have the spirit and he must be

I talked with him in Boonville several weeks ago when the Tigers played Kemper. At that time his conversation hinted along the lines of Oklahoma, and I was wondering if and when he would make the big decision to move to the "happy hunting grounds.'

His father, Charles Van Dyne Sr., former All-America tackle when he played with the University of Missouri Tigers, never insisted on his attending his Alma Mater. In fact, it is well known that his father wanted him to go to the school of his own choice, but the insistence of several Missourians convinced him to go to Columbia.

If he does go to Oklahoma we who know Van in Sedalia wish him all the luck in the world and hope to see him on the Sooner Varsity in 1958, '59 and '60. He'll miss 1957 because of eligibility in making the SPECULATIONS are still being made at the University of Missouri over who will succeed Coach Don Faurot as head football coach in the 1957 season. Faurot retired the past season and has been named to full time duties as athletic director at the University. It is "rumored" the selection is now down to two candidates.

The two I have been told are "Bump" Elliott, line coach at Iowa, a brother of Pete Elliott at Nebraska, and the end coach at Michigan State.

The choice of a Coach is going to be a hard one. There appears on the surface as if there are "too many hands" in the cooking. Everybody is getting in the act, the Alumni, Booster Clubs, Quarterback Club, which is adding to the confusion.

Of course they will all deny they are trying to put in their two-bits worth. But recently at Columbia I talked with several indications of the problem confronting school authorities. Everybody has got to be happy, but when the smoke clear away -I wonder.

To me it appears as a real mess. But no doubt it will be cleaned up and somebody will get the job.

Whoever gets the job will have a real problem. It is understood the Assistants will be one. Will the new coach have an opportunity to make his own selections or will he have to accept the present Assistants, not that they wouldn't make good men for him. But every coach has his favorite. And could be friction between the > ball coach. Frauot, who retained his position as Missouri Athletic Director when he stepped down as grid mentor, will undoubtedly have the big say when the selection is made. It is expected that the patiently awaited announcement will be forthcoming > by February 1st, Of the aspirants interviewed to date, all are fine gentlemen and able coaches. In fact, the selection of any of the individuals mentioned to date would be acceptable to the average Missourian.

> However, if considerations are still being made, I would like to submit the name of personable Dan Devine, now head coach of the Arizona State (Tempe) Sun Devils.

Like all sports-minded Missourians, I too would like to see the Tigers regain their national gridiron prominence of years gone by. I sincerely believe Devine is the man to accomplish this mission. He's considered one of the top flight young coaches in the country and possesses an abundance of football know-how, Just as important, he's accustomed to being associated with a winner.

Devine started his coaching career at Michigan State and is one of the prize proteges of football's outstanding coach, Biggie Munn. At Michigan State he served as head coach of the yearlings and as varsity line

At the end of the 1954 season, Arizona State began to search for a man to rebuild its sagging grid fortunes and cameup with a wise choice in Devine. He proved to be the needed tonic for the Sun Devils and built a winning combination during the 1955 season out of a losing team of 1954, winding-up with a 8-3 record during his first season.

During the campaign just ended, Devine's charges opened many an eye in the southwest, particularly in the Border Conference. In taking nine decisions in ten outtings, the Sun Devils dazzled such opponents as Wichita, Hardin-Simmons, Idaho, North Texas State, College of Pacific and San Jose with their blistering attack from the multiple offense.

Without reservation, Devine is well qualified for the Missouri job-if he can be lured away from the sunny climes of Arizona. They like him there and we'd no doubt like him

SEIFNER: FRANCIS P. We wish to thank everyone for the kindness and sympathy shown us during the loss of our husband and father. Mrs. LaVerne Seifner and Daughter BIGGS, ROSE D.: We wish to thank our many friends and neighbors, those who sent flowers, the singers, Rev. Martin, for the kindness and sympathy which was extended at the time of our bereavement.

R. M. Biggs and Family.

KLEIN, MRS. FANNIE JANE: Our heartfelt thanks to all who extended comforting sympathy and help in our recent sorrow. For the beautiful floral offerings and other kindnesses, we are deeply grateful.

The Klein Family. FRIENDS: Words cannot express our gratitude for the hope given Muscu-lar dystrophy victims. For those who walked and those who helped in any way and for those who gave so cheerfully and generously, we say a heart thank you, ettis County Muscular Dystrophy Chapter and Bobby Wolf and His Family.

Finally Believed His Eyes and Ears!

He has heard and read a great many wonderful things about this new 1957 Cadillac since it made its first appearance a few brief weeks ago-

-about its magnificent new luxury, for instance ... its brilliant new power and responsiveness ... its marvelous new handling ease . . . and its extraordinary new smoothness of ride.

And so, quite frankly, he began to wonder if it weren't all too good to be true. Could any motor car be as wonderful as this latest "car of cars" was reputed to be?

Well, he's decided to put his eyes and ears to the test today. And the verdict is unmistakable!

It's a joy just to lean back into those deep, soft cushions and look out over that graceful hood into the beckoning highway.

And what a revelation the car is to drive!

A curve in the road ahead? He simply follows it with the arc of his hands and the car responds with perfect obedience.

A hill in the offing? He just nudges the accelerator and the car sweeps up and over as effortlessly as if it were traveling the level road.

A stop light coming up? He presses his toeever so gently-on the broad braking pedal and comes to the smoothest, surest stop imaginable.

Yes, it's true what they say about this newest of Cadillacs. This is far and away the finest motor car ever to travel the world's highways.

How about you? Have you heard the wonderful things they're saying about the 1957 Cadillac?

Well, the proof is in the driving-and the facts about Cadillac have never been more convincing.

Mideast Crisis Tops List of Year's Ten Best Stories

Ike's Election, Hungary Revolt Are Next Two

By PAUL R. MICKELSON Associated Press General News

Oil and water mixed to produce the biggest news story of 1956.

More important than President Eisenhower's re-election, even more significant than the courageous but pathetic revolt against Russian rule in Hungary, was Gamal Abdel Nasser's seizure of the Suez waterway and the consequences that brought the jittery world perilously close again to the brink of war.

Newspaper, radio and TV news editors, voting in the annual Associated Press poll to determine the 10 biggest stories of a big news year, unhesitatingly named the Middle East crisis number one. As the year drew to an end, the ancient land of the Pharoahs was the world's most explosive trouble center. England and France were politically and economically shaken. The estrangement of the world's two mightiest powers, the United States and Russia, was wider and more serious.

Four years after he engineered the bloodless coup that toppled the high-living King Farouk from his ancient throne, the 38-year-old Nasser set off the volatile world crisis by seizing the Suez canal. the most vital single lifeline of the British Empire. Unable to regain control of the canal by diplomatic and economic pressure, Britain and France suddenly decided to invade Egypt. Swift Reaction

Perhaps you've never looked at it in quite this way before; but to the savers and borrowers who find it financially attractive to do business with us . . . this city represents in large measure the results of the flow of their savings dollars. These dollars, which they entrust to our care, are loaned to families right here in the community . . . to build or buy a home of their own. In turn, the dollars these borrowers spend for their homes circulate throughout the city among the various businesses . . . and eventually, many of them find their way back here to start the cycle over again. Thus, this flow of savers' dollars feeds the economy of our city and makes it prosper. And as the city is prospering, so too are our savers, who earn better-than-average returns on their savings twice each year. Helen G. Steele Music Club To Hear Pianist

Members of Helen G. Steele Music Club will have an opportunity Wednesday afternoon to hear an artist whose certain-to-be-spectacular career is just getting under way this year. James Gregory, pianist, has had the most thorough preparation possible for his chosen field, studying first with Dr. Wiktor Labunski at the Conservatory of Music in his native Kansas City, then at Juilliard in New York with Rosina Lhevinne and Ernest Hutchison, and later with Myra Hess.

Gregory returned to Kansas City only last spring, after a decade away studying, the last three years being in Paris with Mme. Marguerite Long. He became the first protege of the newly-organized Kansas City Careers Foundation, Inc. The Foundation believes that Gregory is possessed by genius, and the manner in which his ca-

Towering above French mountaineer Spencer Tracy is his archfoe, "The Mountain," scene of one of the year's great suspensedrama, arriving today at the Fox Theatre. Robert Wagner stars with Tracy, Claire Trevor co-stars, Edward Dmytryk produced and directed the Vista-Vision, Technicolor story of an incredibly hazardous climb to a wrecked airliner. The Paramount picture was filmed on Mount Blanc.

Deborah Kerr and John Kerr repeat their original stage roles in "Tea and Sympathy," M-G-M filmization of the Robert Anderson drama, one of the most talked-about plays in Broadway history. Miss Kerr is seen as the wife of the housemaster at a new England prep school, with whom student John Kerr falls in love. Now showing at the Uptown Theatre—ending Tuesday.

New Tax Rule Causes Unrest In Hollywood By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (P)-Hollywood is up in arms about the tax collector. That's nothing new, but this time the town is doing something

The internal revenue boys tossed a bombshell at Hollywood a few weeks ago. Without aid of legislation, the department issued a ruling that corporations that offer "personal services" will be taxed, retroactively to 1954, at income tax levels.

Why was Hollywood so upset by

Because it meant that companies set up by stars, producers, directors and writers would have to give up to 95 per cent of their profits to Uncle Sam, instead of the usual 52 per cent for most cor-

This could conceivably wipe out the majority of independent producers or send them scurrying abroad. The companies of such stars as Burt Lancaster, Frank Sinatra, Kirk Douglas, Bing Crosby, Marilyn Monroe, Desi Arnaz-Lucille Ball, etc., could be in jeopardy.

For once, Hollywood united to fight. The actor, producer, writer, director, manager and craft organizations of both the film and TV industries combined to present a strong front against the new

The groups declared that the proposal would "tend to retard motion picture production in the U. S. and may cause removal of such production to foreign countries."

This is but another skirmish is the fight to get a tax break for creative people.

Said a top-notch film lawyer re cently: "Why should the government continue to give favoritism to men who discover oil on their property or own timber land and discriminate against people who act or write novels? Aren't those who entertain us and add to our national culture deserving of a tax break?

"If the government would give the artists a break, the result would be a spurt of creative activity that would provide work for many people and raise the quality of movies and television."

Law Officials Are Turning To Get-Tough Traffic Steps

Traffic accidents killed more Americans in 1956 than ever behighway slaughter.

There was at least a 5 per cent rise over 1955. Safety experts estimate the total at more than 40,- fic fatalities in 1956 than in 1955, credit generally is given to rigid enforcement of safety measures. In states where traffic deaths increased, similar crackdowns generally are planned.

The 1955 figure was 38,426. The previous high - 39,969

A state-by-state survey by The Associated Press shows that these measures - already in effect in some states and planned in others -include:

1. Increasing the number of po lice patrols on highways. This has top priority in most states.

2. New laws-or harsher en forcement of existing laws-calling for suspension of licenses and -or fines and imprisonment for motorists convicted of drunk driving, "chronic" negligence and

3. Tighter examinations for vehicle licenses and mandatory auto inspection programs.

4. Use of National Guard troops of sheriff's deputies to reinforce regular highway police during peak travel periods, such as holiday weekends.

5. Periodic roadblocks - with massed troopers stopping all cars and checking on licenses, intoxication and vehicle condition. 6. Expansion of the use of radar devices in catching speeders. 7. Establishing state speed limits where they are not already in force.

The survey came on the heels of the Christmas and New Year weekends when 1,115 persons were killed in the combined holiday periods-a new high.

Safety experts attributed the comparatively low toll of 409 during the four-day New Year weekend to increased vigilance and enforcement measures resulting from the nation's reaction to the staggering Christmas weekend total of 706 traffic deaths. The Christmas traffic toll was a record for any holiday.
